

If only he had come
to see Dr. Korman.

Getting a new smile doesn't have to be a frightful chapter in your life. Dr. Korman is making dramatic changes for people whose teeth are uneven, discolored, too big, too small and even missing. If you want your story to read differently, it's not too late to turn the page.

Let Dr. Korman
show you how to smile
hands-free.

Put your smile in Dr. Korman's hands and let yours go free for a change. Dr. Korman's comprehensive approach to dentistry will give you predictable results for transforming your smile and maintaining long-term oral health. With so many advances in cosmetic and implant dentistry today, there are fewer reasons to hide behind stained, worn, chipped or missing teeth.

Before we talk about teeth, let's talk about bonding

When you come into our office, the last thing we'll do is check your teeth. First Dr. Korman will listen to your particular concerns and really hear you. He'll discuss cosmetic techniques and the value of a partnership focused on long-term oral health and illness prevention. Dr. Korman didn't learn his bonding techniques while pursuing his Fellowship or Mastership. But, they are part of his practice to make you feel comfortable before, during and after your visit.
